FIRE BAN IN EFFECT

Effective Thursday, July 5 at 10 am, a complete fire ban has been instituted for Clearview Township.

Due to prolonged days of high temperatures and lack of precipitation in the extended forecast, the Fire Danger Rating has reached the high to extreme levels.

All outdoor burning is now prohibited and all issued fire permits are now void until the ban is lifted.

Residents will be notified by public service announcements when the ban is lifted. All notices will be posted on the municipality’s website at www.clearview.ca.

Michelle Kinoshita, one of two veterinarians at the new Mad River Veterinary Hospital (the other being owner Jacquie Pankatz), welcomes a new patient.

A new vet in town

by Christopher Greer

“Creemore is a pet-loving community,” said Jacquie Pankatz, owner of the recently opened Mad River Veterinary Hospital. “Everywhere you look there are people walking their dogs.”

In keeping with that pet-loving spirit, the Mad River Veterinary Hospital Open House, which will take place on Saturday, July 14, from 10 am to 4 pm, will feature a pet costume contest, with the winner to receive a prize packet. There will also be tours of the clinic, free draws, and refreshments in a tent outside the building, which the Mad River staff hopes will attract passersby in town for Creemore Dairy Day.

“We came here because the area seemed to be underserved,” said Pankatz, who also owns Mountain Vista Veterinary Hospital in

Collingwood. “Jason [of Creemore Veterinary Services] does a great job with larger animals, but people with small companion animals in need of treatment were travelling as far as Shelburne.”

The transformation of the building in which Mad River Veterinary Hospital is housed has been quite drastic – long gone are the bright purple-blue and yellow of the Mad River Tea House.

“We’re very happy with the outcome,” said Pankatz of the renovations, the various stages of which were documented on the Mad River website (www.madrivervet.com). “We wanted to fit in with the quaintness of downtown Creemore.”

Clearview Mayor Ken Ferguson, who will also be in town for Creemore Dairy Day, will perform the ribbon cutting ceremony at the Open House.

A young entrepreneur

by Brad Holden

If you’re looking for comfortable, locally made patio furniture, look no further than Nick Dymond, a Ray’s Place Rent-A-Youth veteran who is branching out this year thanks to the provincial government’s “Summer Company” program, which provides students with a $1,500 grant up front in exchange for a credible business plan and another $1,500 in September, should they meet all the program’s requirements.

Dymond, who calls himself a “hands-on guy” who has been building things since he was a young child, came up with the idea for his company, “Dymond Finish,” after achieving a high mark for a Muskoka Chair he built during a Grade 12 tech class at Stayner Collegiate Institute.

He now plans to take orders for them and build them all summer, selling them for $90 per chair, $120 if you want it stained and $150 if you want it painted. He’s also experimenting with a bench design as well as an outdoor coffee table that features a polished concrete top and wooden legs. Should business take off, he’s willing to do custom orders as well; to that end, he’s building up a reference binder of different DIY outdoor furniture projects that customers can browse and choose from.

Nick Dymond

The Summer Company program, which Dymond heard about through his involvement with Ray’s Place, is administered by the Greater Collingwood Small Business Enterprise Centre. In all, five students in the area were awarded with grants this year. Besides the money, the program also offers mentoring opportunities; Creemore’s Doug Mills has been Dymond’s mentor, helping him with his business plan and other arrangements.

Throughout the summer, Dymond will have examples of his work on display at the Ray’s Place booth at the Creemore Farmers’ Market. He can also be reached at 705-984-6969 or by emailing nick_dymond@hotmail.com.

THE WAY WE WERE

As we head north from Creemore to Websterville (where there was no station but you could always stop the train with a wave), we have this series of shots taken by Peter Coates on his last journey on the train on April 20, 1955. At top is a picture of Engine No. 1364, taken before Coates boarded. Note the mailman, Joe Dixon, about to load his cargo at left. The pictures directly above and at left were taken from the train's caboose, looking back at the St. John's steeple and Sheppard's Mill as the train left town.

LETTER

Some food for thought on wind turbines

Dear Editor:

I refer to the letters the Echo has received over many months about wind turbines and I thought your readers, on both sides of the argument, may want to read the results sent to me of a poll, together with some facts from an article in the Independent newspaper in Britain. In other countries, the erection of wind turbines has not always been acceptable and groups have shown opposition not only about location but the value of turbines as such. The ComRes poll in Britain reveals surprisingly strong support for wind farms as "an acceptable price to pay" for greener energy in the future.

Seven out of ten people favour more wind turbine farms built to meet Britain's energy needs – despite a high profile political backlash from countysiders. Rural Conservative MPs are considering cuts in Treasury subsidies for on-shore wind farms. Critics claim turbines cause significant noise pollution and would not be economically viable without government subsidies.

Politically, left wing voters in the last general election (Lib-Dems and Labour) agree with "acceptable price to pay," returning 70 per cent in favour, compared with 58 per cent of Conservative voters disagreeing. As for age groups, young people 18 to 44 years of age showed 80 per cent in favour, compared with 59 per cent of those 45 and over. Geographically, of those agreeing, 72 per cent of those in London and the southeast, compared with 68 per cent in the north of England, 67 per cent in the midlands and 63 per cent in Wales and the southeast.

A recent court case brought by wind turbine opponents in the village of Hemsby, Norfolk, resulted in Mrs. Justice Lange ruling in favour of the villagers, "... that the Government's wind farm target did not outweigh the villagers' right to preserve their landscape, harming the character, appearance and beauty spot on the edge of the Norfolk Broads." This area is favoured by tourists.

There are currently 3,144 onshore wind turbines in Britain, with 500 turbines offshore. The opponents to offshore turbines state that turbines are a danger to shipping. With so many wind turbines on a small island, it is interesting to note that no mention was made of health issues related to wind turbines.

Sincerely,

Ray Jackson, Terra Nova

Creemore Big Heart Seniors

We all assembled for cards on this very warm day, with the temperature peaking at about 33 degrees Celsius. The Legion is air conditioned, and much cooler than the outside temperature, but we were still grateful to Jim Rigney for bringing in his fan once again. I believe Jim left it at the Legion so it could be utilized, but he does want it back when this heat wave is over.

Karl Seifert brought Janet Boudreau back to Seniors after a long absence, and it was great to see Betty Sharpe back again this week. Bob Veale was absent as he was not feeling well, so Warren Gale helped Ray Leighton with the 50/50 draws, which went to Earl Bentley, Phyllis Seed (on the ticket that she traded Dave Smith for!), Tom Sharpe, Beulah Dunn, Eileen Nash, Bert Douglas, Carol Faulkner and Barb Pilon.

When it came to moon shots, we were soon made aware that there was one sharp player amongst us as the first three moon shots went to Janice Stephens, followed by Marg Ferguson, Mary Gilchrest (2), June Hartley, Marion Kelly, Phyllis Seed, Doreen Murray, Elsie Longson and Jim Rigney. Jim won both the travelling prize and the Sidewinders loot.

High scorers were Tom Sharpe 290, Carol Faulkner 267, Janice Stephens

SENIORS

Sylvia
GALE

265 and Betty Sharpe 259. Low was Elsie Longson with 115.

The recent collapse of part of the mall at Elliot Lake left a lot of folks concerned regarding the “whereabouts” of Howard Tait, who lives in that town. Trying to contact him by phone resulted in no answer, so I left a message (or two or three!). Several days after my original call, he called us. It seems that he had been on the mall roof on the Friday and then left to go to his trailer for the week. The day after he had been at the mall, the roof collapsed. Soon as he got home and found the message(s), he called to let everyone know he was OK, and to thank everyone for their concern.

Our thanks on behalf of Nancy Strand for the large donation of wool from Grace and Dianna Hector. I was talking to Nancy, and she is looking forward to it being delivered this week, and she sends her thanks for everyone’s thoughtfulness.

Warren’s granddaughter Nikki and her two kids, Tyler and Amber, visited with us over the holiday weekend. They live in Ottawa, but are thoughtful about getting down here to see us every so often, which we enjoy. They arrived in time to join with us for the Legion buffet breakfast on July 1st, which we all enjoyed very much. It actually became brunch for our crew. Good food, good friends, a hug and a “Canada” pin attached to my collar by Bob Ransier without any collateral damage made for a great day! (Just kidding, Bob. I wasn’t very worried when you were near my neck with a pin!) The tables were all dressed up in Canada’s signature red and white, and there was a small table beautifully set up in honour of missing comrades. A lovely “touching” touch. It was good to see Marg Ransier out with daughter Betty and son Bob and some friends, Hank and Minie Schutte, who were here from Bathmen, the Netherlands, visiting with Marg. George Ransier stayed with the Schuttes when he went back to Holland.

My thanks to Bob McNicol for bringing in the 1951-52 “Gleaner” yearbook from the Collingwood District Collegiate Institute. The CDCI covered a huge area, and was near the time when several high schools amalgamated (including the Creemore Continuation School) to be bussed to Collingwood. But I found it interesting that the Collingwood school yearbook was printed at the offices of the Creemore Star! The accompanying photo came from this Gleaner.

Recently, my daughter Sharon was cooking up a sugar syrup for the hummingbird feeder. Without her glasses, she reached up into the cupboard for the red food colouring and, finding a small bottle, she dumped it into the mix. Later, she was really surprised to see her syrup a funny brown colour. On checking, it seems that she had put rum flavouring into the bird feed instead of red colouring. She put it out, and reports that the “birds just loved it!” I wonder if there is a penalty in Alberta for making lushes out of wee birds?

FAST FEET Twelve-year-old Cassidy Morgan (left) and 11-year-old Anna Carruthers (right), who have both had great success running for NCPS at the elementary school level, also belong to the South Simcoe Dufferin Track and Field Club, which is based out of Barrie.

At a recent Legion track meet in Midland, a qualifier for the Canadian Youth Championships being held in Prince Edward Island this August, Morgan finished 2nd in the 800m and third in the 1200m and Carruthers finished 3rd in the 800m and 9th in the 1200m.

Morgan's time of 3 minutes, 38 seconds in the 1200m also qualified her to participate in the national championships. Carruthers missed qualifying by a little over a second, but her result was great considering it was her first year participating in the event.

DEATH NOTICE

ASHBY, Judi Ann – Daughter of Gordon and Marian Mustard. She has a younger brother John and a sister Michelle sixteen years her junior.

A bright girl of Scottish decent, skipped 2 years of public school and attended Leaside Public High School where she met her husband Stan Alan Ashby from North Toronto. They were married in 1972 after she left her course in Interior Design at Ryerson.

She excelled at everything she attempted and the variety of her career skills made her a fitting example of a Universal Woman or Superwoman. From 1973 to 1977 she gave birth to Alysa Antares, David Orion and Megan Altair.

With Judi's support they have gone on to successful careers in Graphic Design, Software Development and Instructional Design, respectively.

Collies have been part of their lives since before they were married 40 years ago. And as all good dogs go to heaven, Judi will prepare a place for the half-dozen or so that are currently on this earth. Judi has friends and relatives throughout the province and in Nova Scotia, BC, Manitoba, Kentucky, Pennsylvania, and Florida.

Judi couldn't be prouder of her 3 kids, 5 1/2 grand kids, 2 sons-in-law and daughter-in-law. Judi blessed the lives of all around her and will be greatly missed.

A Celebration of Judi's life for family and close friends will be held at Dods & McNair Funeral Home, 21 First St., Orangeville on Friday, July 6, 2012 at 1 pm with a visitation 1 hour prior to service time.

(Condolences may be offered to the family at www.dodsandmcnair.com)

O CANADA! The Legion's Canada Day celebrations got off to a tasty start when Brian and Diane McKay (awarded the 2012 Citizens of the Year for their volunteer work with the Tree Committee, the Community Christmas Dinner and the Blackdown Cadets work crews) cut the cake along with Councillor Thom Paterson, Mayor Ken Ferguson and Legion president Jim Richards (above left). Meanwhile, the Old Mill House Pub and Shawn Hughson of the Creemore Sunday Night Hockey League hosted a 2nd Annual Street Hockey Tournament that saw 12 teams competing on three surfaces on Elizabeth Street East, complete with four-foot endboards built by Gary Kramers. "A" Division champs (top right) were "The Hasbins," sponsored by Charlie Coates of CBJ Heating. Mixed Division champs (middle right) were "Downtown Creemore," organized by local MMA fighter Lonnie Smith. And winning the shootout competition (below right) was "Hardware" Dave Dillon. Of course, the day ended with another spectacular fireworks show organized (and subsidized) by Jeff Clarmo of Northstar Fireworks. For more Canada Day pictures, including some great action shots of the hockey tournament, visit www.thecreemoreecho.com.

Customer must request Xplornet service at an Ontario location from an Xplornet dealer. At the time of installation, the dealer will determine whether Xplornet can provide service - either through our fixed wireless or satellite technologies - at the customer's location. If the dealer is unable to get any fixed wireless or satellite signal at the customer's location, Xplornet will send the customer a $100 gas voucher. Xplornet's network includes both 3G and 4G technologies in different regions. Pricing varies according to the available technology. For complete details on our packages and prices call or visit xplornet.com. Installation fees, activation fees and taxes may apply. Traffic management applies to all packages.
