A SPRINGTIME IDYLL Last Saturday saw the opening of the Creemore Farmers' Market, and as always, people spilled out of the stall area and into the Creemore Horticultural Park, where spring blossoms and the "Children's Dress Up Dance" fountain beckoned. For pictures of the year's first outdoor market, see pages 8 and 9.

The magic of gardens

The spring alliums will be done, but there will be plenty more to see during the Purple Hills Arts & Heritage Society's 2013 Garden Tour.

by Brad Holden
There is nothing like a garden to remind you that life is a constantly changing thing.
To experience Ralph Hicks' breathtaking Mulmur property this week, with its formal areas, its wild expanses, and its sculptures peaking enchantingly out from where you'd least expect, is to enjoy a completely different garden than what patrons of the Purple Hills Arts & Heritage Society's 2013 "Bountiful and Beautiful" Garden Tour will see on Saturday, June 22. The structure will remain the same, of course, but the colours and foliage will have evolved, several times over.
And that, when it comes down to it, is the magic of a garden. Get to know one, and every day will bring a new surprise.

Dunedin artist Peter Taylor is hosting "Project 50," a solo show, this weekend.

Bringing it all back home

by Brad Holden
Anyone who knows Dunedin artist and ultra-marathon runner Peter Taylor won't be surprised that the birth of his first child eight months ago didn't keep him from continuing to explore the roads and trails of the Noisy River valley – in fact, his closest friends in Dunedin purchased him and partner Leslie Evans an off-road running stroller as a baby shower present, knowing that Taylor wouldn't be able to slow down.

What did come as a surprise, for Taylor himself at least, was the way

Avening Hall fundraiser fuses local food movement with community

Last Sunday's CrAvening community dinner at the Avening Hall was a sell-out, raising at least $7,500 toward needed repairs at the hall. With several celebrity chefs and local chefs working together in the kitchen and members of the Avening community serving, the evening was a great example of how the new local food and cuisine movement can use existing community infrastructure, bridging the gap between old traditions and new.

EDITORIAL Saturdays at the Market

We had a blast last Saturday morning, handing out over 100 pieces of Affairs Bakery cake at the Creemore Farmers' Market and chatting with many of you about the benefits of taking out a subscription to your local community newspaper. To those of you who became new supporters, we send our heartfelt thanks.

This weekend, Brad and Fred will be at the Market, talking subscriptions and handing out peanuts from the 100 Mile Store. We hope to see you there.

POEM

A Tartan Thank You

POET LAUREATE

Tim ARMOUR

To the many magnanimous merchants on Mill,
Our gratitude here we do tender.
The Beinn Gorm Highlanders Pipes and Drums Band
Owes its thanks to each Creemore town vendor.

Your fine contributions for "Tartan Fling" night
Were a fit testament to our village.

The prices they fetched at our auction that eve
Could lead some to accuse us of pillage.

And not to be left in the dust and the dirt,
Glen Huron notes here special mention.
The Giffens and Hamiltons did their town proud,
With donations that caught folks' attention.

To all of our patrons who purchased a pass,
Even though some could not be attending,
We recognize here your support for our band,
And, like pipe tunes, our thanks is unending.

SAFETY • INCOME • SALEABILITY

Jim Madill found this handbill for the fourth Canada Victory Loan of the Second World War, issued 70 years ago this month, in a box of his parents' memorabilia.

Victory Loans were Canadian government appeals for money to finance the war effort in both the First and Second World Wars. According to the Canadian Encyclopedia, the first domestic war loan was raised in November 1915, but not until the fourth campaign of November 1917 was the term "Victory Loan" applied. The First Victory Loan, with an issue of $150 million, 5.5% 5, 10 and 20 year gold bonds (some as small as $50), was quickly oversubscribed, collecting $398 million, or about $50 per capita. The Second and Third Victory Loans were floated in 1918 and 1919, bringing another $1.34 billion.

In WWII, following the slow-moving second war loan of 1940, the Victory Loan returned with the panoply of colourful posters, patriotic pleas and vast sales apparatus which had become familiar in WWI. There were nine Victory Loans dating from June 15, 1941 to November 1, 1945, having total cash sales of almost $12 billion, about 52 per cent from corporations and the rest from individuals.

Creemore Big Heart Seniors

This was our 12-noon potluck lunch. After Irma Flack gave the blessing, about 30 of us enjoyed a very nice lunch. The variety of choices keeps one, no matter how old they are, eager to try something new and different in the taste department. All this, while still getting a good bit of the “tried and true” dishes, is a delightful mix.

After the cleanup was completed, Irma read out a Thank You from Joan Truaxe and the Pettigrew family for our $25 donation to the Creemore Cemetery in memory of Vera Pettigrew. By now quite a few more of us had assembled in time to play cards which, as usual, started with the 50/50 draw.

The 50/50 draws went to Marcia Cameron, Marg Ferguson, Effie Taylor, Ruth Loughheed, Eileen Nash, Irma Flack and Tom Sharpe. Good job Tom won a draw just to keep the gents in the game!

Moon shots were played by Lillian Hiltz, Roy Veinot, Marcia Cameron, Warren Gale, Paul Turner, Eileen Nash and Roy Veinot again. Roy won both the travellers prize and the Sidewinders loot, and Warren Gale came out the winner between he and Jim Rigney.

High scorers were Lillian Hiltz 334 (nice!), Marcia Cameron 333 (also nice!), Eileen Nash 265 and George Blakney 261. I also noticed that Marcia won something in every available category so far! Very well done! Low score was Marj Thomson with 82.

We would like to thank Ruby Klinck for bringing in a stash of good pens for our use at Seniors, and also our thanks to Noble Insurance for recently donating a stash of pens to Ray

SENIORS

Sylvia
GALE

Leighton for the Seniors. Our thanks to you all.

We were also pleased to welcome back Paul and Judith Turner with a big hand.

We were all pleased to see President Ray Leighton back after his surgery, but by the end of the day he was looking pretty pale and tired. So, it seems that he is going to have to be careful and take it easy for a while yet. Then I spotted Jean Lune out and about – and she was looking great for a gal who had just had shingles. Well done, June.

We would like to send a Happy Birthday out to Irene Dolson who, along with many other folks in this town, were born with great longevity genes. They all seem to hit 90 and then just “keep on trucking!” You folks have no idea how much you are admired by some of us younger “wimps” who think we have problems. I think maybe we just need to give our heads a shake, and keep on trucking also!

Bruce Gale, Warren’s son, was here for a few days visit. While he was here, he cut the front and back yard, and we thank him. Our neighbour, Allan Thompson, was out whippersnapping the area by our mutual line fence so, thanks to Allan and Bruce, we just have the field to do. But thank goodness that Curtis Kidd got our mower working with a new battery, etc, and mowed the whole lot of that green stuff once already or else we would be trying to look out over it by now!

Our congratulations to one of our members, Ruth Loughheed, who won the Grand Prize at the Perch Festival recently. This was a new boat, motor, trailer, plus a bunch of other things.

The Ford Super Duty F350 “Tracker Edition,” Sylvia’s son Terry Grant’s new wheels.

Well done, Ruth. It is wonderful that you won that prize, which is a lot of dollars worth of new equipment, but it is also great to see it go to someone in this area as opposed to leaving the province.

Just a reminder that there is a pig roast at the Anglican Church on Friday, May 31. Cost is $15 for advance tickets only.

Son Terry Grant, the original “Mantracker” on TV apparently has a very large, very loyal fan base that caused the Ford Motor Company (and/or) Prince George, B.C. Motors to produce a “Tracker Edition” of a Ford Super Duty F 350 one-ton, diesel, four-wheel-drive, crew cab, King Ranch model truck with heated and air conditioned seats and everything else you can hope for in it or on it. This Tracker Edition is quite a truck, and the only one in existence. They gave it to Terry to get Ford’s advertising “on the road,” and it has artwork down both sides of Tracker and Prey, mountains, wildlife, etc, etc. He plans on driving it home sometime later this summer or fall.

Thought I had forgotten you, Mary? I didn’t, really. Just thought I would try to trick you this time. Your Creemore Echo is renewed for another year, and we will be talking to you again soon. This Mary is Mary Dolomont, Warren’s sister, who has those wonderful genes that I mentioned earlier. Mary lives in North Sydney, Cape Breton, Nova Scotia. You folks all know that Warren celebrated his 90th birthday in February – and Mary is three years older than Warren. Way to go, kiddo!

Purple Hills Garden Tour will feature eight wonders

Hicks has been working on his property for 30 years, with the help of his gardener, Mike Donnan. This is the first time it has appeared on a garden tour. In addition to Hicks' gem, the Purple Hills event will feature seven other gardens in the area, and promises to enchant and inspire gardening enthusiasts of all skill levels and interests.

Hicks' garden has evolved over the years, and now includes several distinct areas – a woodland garden featuring a host of exotic shade plants, a formal "sensory garden" that abounds with herbs and several of Hicks' stone sculptures, a courtyard garden, a rockery and the latest addition, an exploratory garden featuring winding paths through tall native grasses, with whimsical art installations around every corner.

"I like to think there is a different garden for every mood," said Hicks. "Also, there is a place to sit and enjoy breakfast no matter what the temperature, whether it's windy, rainy or sunny, and no matter how you're feeling."

Tickets for the June 22 Garden Tour are $15 each and are on sale at the Creemore Echo, Curiosity House Books and the Creemore Farmers' Market. The event is a fundraiser for the Purple Hills Arts & Heritage Society's ongoing efforts to support local arts and conserve the heritage of Creemore and surrounding areas. For more information, visit www.phahs.ca.

Ralph Hicks' Mulum garden, now full of spring blossoms, will be in summer bloom for the Purple Hills Garden Tour.

A great kickoff to Farmers’ Market season

by Sarah Hallett
Wow! What a fantastic day we had last Saturday for our first market.
We had so many positive comments about our largest market ever; some new vendor highlights were our lamb producer Andrew and his range of sheep’s cheeses, the lovely pine trees that Braeden and his friends brought, the refreshing ginger lemonade by Under The Ginger

Tree and the return of Sherina at Ali’s Kitchen. All these new stalls backed by our large core of familiar, skilled producers and artisans, including Matthew’s bread, Marie’s herbs, Pam’s soaps, Shirley’s glass, hot food by Pet and Lori, Nancy’s preserves and produce by Orie, Mulberry Moon, Willowlane, Cut & Dried and Fiddlefoot Farm among others too many to mention.
We received a comment on Saturday regarding the withdrawal of space for non-profit organizations at the top of the market. While we understand the complaint, quite apart from the ability for us all to have clearer access to the Horticultural Park, it pays to bear in mind that the Station on The Green board and all of us at the Market are volunteers. We fit the entire organization of the market, board meetings and promotions alongside our full time work and families. There was an extraordinary amount of extra work involved in organizing 18-plus non-profit groups and allocating four per week into each Saturday, especially when many want to attend at the same time. The Market board agreed with the Station board that incorporating non-profit organizations within the Market was a good solution, being of minimal cost and enabling organizations to attend on any date.

On a more personal note, I feel proud to be carrying on the strong tradition started by Jean Brownfield and Sandra Lackie almost 16 years ago. The Creemore Market is one to celebrate, filled with skilled vendors who grow, bake and make all their own product, bringing the best locally sourced food and crafts to Creemore every Saturday morning. The Market is a team effort and happens every week with the help of Orie Johnston, Marie Boyce, Sandra Lackie, Bill Mann, Pam Black, Janet Fletcher, Linda Mills and Nancy DeGorter. Market enquiries can be made to any one of us. If you haven't yet visited the market, please consider coming to downtown Creemore on Saturday morning to meet our community of stall holders, you'll be assured of a very warm welcome.

You can find us online, as well, at www.creemorefarmersmarket.ca.

Creemore Log Cabin hosts War of 1812 exhibit

by Brad Holden

A new travelling exhibit, Simcoe County and the War of 1812, will be on display at the Creemore Log Cabin on Saturdays, Sunday afternoons and Wednesday afternoons for the next three weeks.

The exhibit, produced with the support of funding from the Department of Canadian Heritage through the 1812 Bicentennial Fund, is on loan from the Simcoe County Museum. It's intended to be a travelling exhibit, and Creemore is the first stop.

While most of what Canadians know about the War of 1812 took place in the Niagara Peninsula and on the waters of Lake Ontario and Lake Erie, the effects and ramifications of the war were much more widespread. Simcoe County and the War of 1812 brings to life several lesser known, significant events that occurred in this area during the war.

Among the topics showcased in a hands-on fashion are wintering at Fort Willow, a stop on the portage between Lake Ontario and Lake Huron near Minesing; Glengarry Landing on the east bank of the Nottawasaga River, where a flotilla of "batteaux" were built to relieve the British garrison at Fort Michilimackinac; and the participation of First Nations people in the war.

For Chris Raible of the Log Cabin Service Board, a 19th-century historian himself, hosting the exhibit in the cabin is exciting because it signals a new museum space in Creemore. The exhibit is being co-hosted by the Clearview Public Library. Interestingly, all of the information boards were produced locally, by Creemore-based Page Graphics.

The exhibit will be open on Saturday, May 25, June 1 and 8 from 9:30 am to 3 pm; on Sunday, May 26, June 2 and 9 from 1 to 4 pm; and on Wednesday, May 29 and June 5 from 1 to 4 pm. If anyone would like to view the exhibit and cannot make it during those hours, call Raible at 705-466-2261 to arrange an alternate time.

Raising funds to keep history alive

by Brad Holden

St. Luke's Anglican Church will host its second annual Pig Roast Fundraiser on Friday, May 31 from 5 to 7 pm. Proceeds will go toward several needed upgrades to the 127-year-old place of worship, including the rebuilding of the ramp which makes the church accessible and the restoring of the building's 20 stained glass windows, which were purchased in England in 1886 and gifted to the St. Luke's congregation by several English friends of William R. Forster, the priest at the time the church was built.

All 20 of the windows came in at about $300 in 1886, and the entire church was built for $3,650. Nowadays, the restoration of the windows will cost considerably more than that whole price, and the congregation intends to chip away at them slowly, replacing the old leading in one window at a time.

"We hope people see the benefit in supporting this effort," said church member Dorothy Shropshire. "Even though our congregation is fairly small these days, this church has been and remains a vital presence in this community."

Indeed, St. Luke's outreach far exceeds the number of people who worship there on Sunday mornings. From the annual Gift of Music concert series to the various dinners held throughout the year, the church is a big part of life in Creemore.

There is also some impressive history in the building and the congregation it serves. It's not the first building for St. Luke's — that one was built across the river on the grounds of the cemetery, as early as 1849 or 1850. It was the first church built in the area and as a result, St. Luke's remains the mother church of south Georgian Bay's Anglican communion.

The first resident priest at St. Luke's was Rev. John Langtry, who has a street in Creemore named after him. Langtry's parish was large, encompassing all the area north of Barrie, parts of Mulmur and Tosoronto Townships, and Collingwood, the then-brand-new railway terminus. All Saint's Church in Collingwood was built in 1859, ten years after St. Luke's. Langtry also founded the Collingwood high school, which would eventually become Collingwood Collegiate Institute.

With the proceeds from the May 31 pig roast and other events happening throughout the year, the St. Luke's congregation hopes to honour this history and keep their church a thriving part of today's Creemore.

Tickets for the event are $15 for adults and $8 for children 12 and under. They are being sold in advance only, and are available by calling 705-466-2206.

A tradition continues

In 1988, seven area couples met for dinner to celebrate their 25th wedding anniversaries. Since then they have been meeting every five years to celebrate and this year was no exception. Getting together were Neil and Jean Metheral, Lorne and Isobel Cleary, Don and Bernice Beattie, Jim and Marilyn Steed, John and Gayle

Gordon and Joyce Millsap. Unable to be attend due to ill health was Frank Winchester and the group certainly missed Gwen Winchester and Glenn Millsap, who both passed away in the last five years. Ten years ago, in 2003, the group hosted a big community party to celebrate their collective 40th anniversary.

Sherri Jackson of String Theory.

Kick off summer in style

For the third year in a row, the Creemore Nitetis Lodge will transform the Creemore Arena into a beach bash for Margaritas in the Valley, raising money for local charities and making sure everyone kicks off summer in grand style at the same time. This year's event, taking place at 7 pm on Saturday, June 1, will feature local band String Theory on the top of the bill. Featuring Lodge member Glenn Hoag and his wife Sherri Jackson, String Theory opened last year's show for the Jimmy Buffett cover band Northern Harbour and pretty much stole the show. This year, they'll headline and another local musician, Fran Webster (with the help of his son Adam) will warm things up. Proceeds from the show will go toward various local charities supported by the Lodge. Tickets for the event, at $20, are available at the Creemore Foodland. For more information, visit Nitetislodge.com or Facebook.com/MargaritasInTheValley.

“Project 50” a result of big changes for Dunedin artist

he was able to translate his off-road experiences, and the wild vistas he came upon, into art. Traditionally an oil-on-large-canvas guy, he quickly found that daddy daycare – baby Isla spent a lot of time in Taylor’s studio afterall, napping in a Pack and Play after joining him on a morning run – did not always gel with spending long hours on big paintings.

“I tried it a few times, but it was really hard to maintain focus without becoming a really bad dad,” he said.

In the 13 years he’d been painting for a living, though, Taylor had always had an image in the back of his head, of a whole bunch of small-format work on one wall. He’d also had a growing desire to return to drawing, a skill he’d used during the 10-year illustration career that predated his decision to become a full-time artist.

“I also had some beautiful paper that had been given to me as a gift,” said Taylor, “so I started experimenting with smaller sketches.”

The result is “Project 50,” a self-curated show of 50 eight-by-eight works in mixed media – some use pen and ink, some use pastels, some use paint. All of them depict places that Taylor has visited and fallen in love with. From Crowsnest Pass in the Rockies to the lakes of Temagami in Ontario to Gros Morne National Park in Newfoundland, the sketches span the width of Canada.

The show, which will take place this weekend only – Saturday, May 25 and Sunday, May 26 from 10 am to 5 pm – marks the first major local exhibit for Taylor since he and Evans moved to the area in 2006. For the past 13 years, Taylor has focused on doing one large show a year in Toronto, all of which have benefited Amici, a not-for-profit organization which sends underprivileged children to Ontario summer camps.

This show is a whole different thing, inspired by the birth of Isla, worked on in spurts between child care duties, and staged in Taylor’s own studio in the village that’s now his home.

“I’m a bit nervous this time, because it’s all so close to home,” said Taylor. “But I’m excited also, to share this work in the place that I love.”

“Project 50” can be found at 10 Lavender Hill Road in Dunedin – look for Taylor’s extensive front-yard vegetable gardens. For more information call 705-466-5424 or visit www.petertaylorpaintings.com.

THANK YOU

Grateful thanks to Jim Richards who came to our rescue on Saturday by providing the market with essential extra tables. Also, thanks to Gary Page of Page Graphics for putting up our refreshed lawn sign in time for our first market! Creemore Farmers' Market

Thanks to Norma of Affairs Catering for the butter tart samples last Friday. They were all delicious! Creemore Echo Thank you to everyone who made crAVENING a huge success. To our Chefs: Carl and the Richmond Station team; Lynn and Lora from Ruby Watchco and Ruby Eats; Matthew Flett; Caesar and Sam from the soon to open Creemore Kitchen; Leona and Andrea from Azzurra Trattoria; Simon from the 100 Acre Bakery and Shaun from the Bruce Wine Bar thank you for feeding the crowd. To all of the food and drink providers including Creemore Springs, Inniskillin, Sheldon Creek Dairy, the New Farm, 100 Acre Bakery, Roy's Acres, Matt Flett, Creemore Coffee Company, Clearview Tea Company, Dingo Farm, Lennox Farms, Ontario Fisheries, Osprey Bluffs Honey, Primeridge Pure Dairy, Rosewood Estates Winery and Spirit Tree Cidery we thank you for sharing your wonderful local flavour. To the regular gang of Avening volunteers we must give an extra special thanks as there is no finer group of workers – all are efficient, caring and willing – this is what our hall was built on and you carry on this tradition. Our deepest gratitude to those who donated to our silent auction including Steve the Potter, Paul Mantrop, Huron House, Azzurra Trattoria, Norman Hardie, Ruby Watchco, Dags and Willow, Georgian Hills Winery and others – over $2600 was raised on the auction alone. Thank you Andrea at Azzurra for putting this very successful element together. Sponsorship from Cheryl MacLaurin of Chestnut Park Realty Limited, promotional support from the Creemore Echo and a truck full of wood from Wood by Whit was a vital part of our success too. Last but not least we would like to thank all of those who joined us for the evening. Your support made a huge difference. We are now much closer to meeting our $35,000 fundraising goal. We were so happy you came to share our love for the hall and hope, with your ongoing interest and support, that the ACC North will remain an important part of this community for years to come. To see pictures go to www.aveninghall.com and while you are there – if you feel so inspired - please consider making a donation.
