YOUTH IN THE STREET The Harold Crawford Memorial Parade is a grand Canada Day tradition in Creemore, and this year was no different, with about 80 youngsters travelling the length of Mill Street under the guidance of kid-at-heart Corey Finkelstein (centre). The parade ended at the Legion, where the riders were entertained by old-time games and all kinds of patriotic fun. For more pictures of the day's celebrations, see page 6 or visit thecreemoreecho.com.

A SECOND LAWSUIT IN MULMUR

by Brad Holden

Mulmur Township Deputy Mayor Rhonda Campbell Moon has filed a second lawsuit against three of her fellow elected representatives and the municipality as a whole, according to a statement of claim filed at the Orangeville court office in January and received by Mulmur clerk Terry Horner on June 19.

The lawsuit, which names Mayor Paul Mills, Councillors Earl Hawkins and Heather Hayes and the Township of Mulmur, claims that in or about late 2010 or early 2011, the defendants,

Summer Hort Show July 13

The Creemore Horticultural Society, at 92 years of age, is still going strong and maintaining the original objectives of its founders: to promote the protection of the environment, to provide the circulation of horticultural information and to make Creemore the prettiest village in Canada.

On Saturday, July 13, the Society will once again hold its summer flower and vegetable show at the Station on the Green from 8:30 am to 1 pm.

Entries for this event will have been placed and judged the day before. If you would like to participate, a membership in the Society is $12 and will also provide you with a year of speakers and additional events.

Special displays this year include miniature gardens and a central invitational display titled "Sky High." There are also several youth categories, and it's hoped that parents will encourage an early interest in gardening by having young people try an entry or several.

TOP GARDENS

The Creemore Horticultural Society's inaugural Creemore Blooms contest was held last week, and five gardens were deemed worthy of note and commendation. In no particular order, the winners are (from top to bottom at left) 122 Collingwood Street, 22 Francis Street, 16 Jardine Crescent, 7632 County Road 9 and 7612 County Road 9.

In total, 53 gardens were deemed worthy of assessment by three independent judges, who viewed every garden in Creemore.

In addition to the aforementioned winners, five gardens were singled out for "honourable mention." They are, in no particular order, 24 Elizabeth Street East, 31 Elizabeth Street East, 4 George Street, 62 George Street and 224 Mill Street.

Our congratulations to all of the winning gardeners.

Clearview Fire Chief charged with impaired driving

by Brad Holden

Clearview Township Fire Chief Bob McKean will be limited to “administrative duty” after being charged last Saturday night with impaired driving and dangerous driving.

The Ontario Provincial Police report that at around 10:45 pm, a Ford F150 pickup truck was seen travelling eastbound in the westbound lanes of Highway 407 from Bronte Road to Trafalgar Road at a high rate of speed. Numerous callers reported that the truck had almost collided with several vehicles head-on.

After making contact with the truck and pursuing it for approximately 500 metres, an OPP officer was able to safely stop the vehicle without incident.

McKean, who had his three young children in the vehicle at the time, was arrested at the scene and was transported to the Port Credit OPP detachment. He was charged with “Impaired Operation of a Motor Vehicle,” “Operating a Vehicle with Over 80mgs of Alcohol,” and “Dangerous Operation of a Motor Vehicle.”

Clearview Township Mayor Ken Ferguson, speaking to the Echo on Tuesday, said the situation was an unfortunate one but that McKean is “part of the family,” and that he deserves due process under the law.

In the meantime, McKean will be confined to desk duty; all other duties relating to Fire and Emergency Services will be assumed by Deputy Fire Chief Colin Shewell.

McKean’s first appearance in Milton court is scheduled for Monday, July 22.

Meet the girls at Miller’s Dairy

by Brad Holden

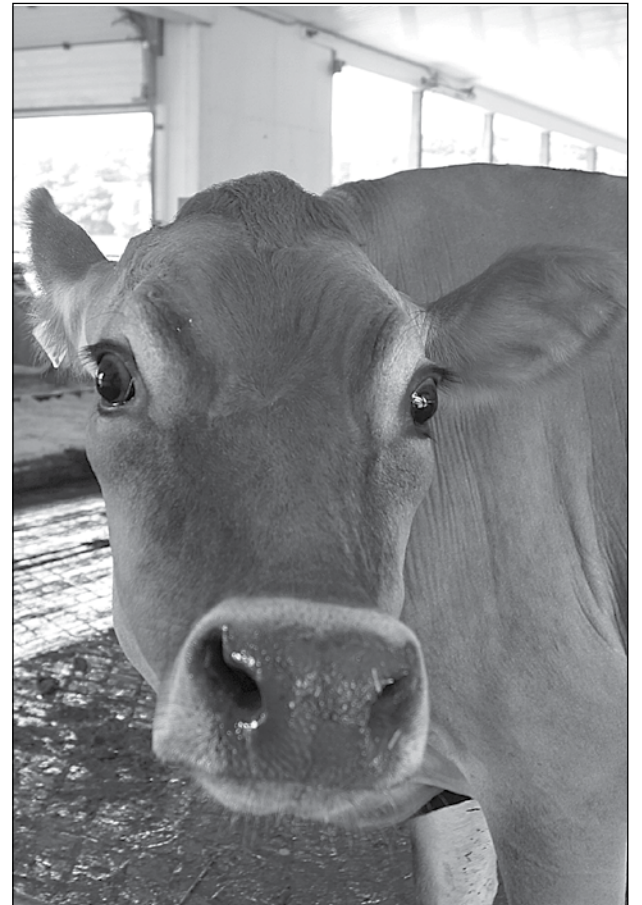

It’s hard to believe it’s been just one year since Creemore celebrated the grand opening of Miller’s Dairy. Since then, the familiar glass bottles and the tasty Jersey milk they contain have become ubiquitous in these parts, and the notion of Creemore as a two-beverage town – we make beer and milk! – has been cemented into place.

On Saturday, July 13, Miller’s Dairy will indeed celebrate its first anniversary, this time with “Dairy Day” celebrations being held on John and Marie Miller’s County Road 9 farm.

“It’s a chance for our customers to meet the girls,” said Miller, referring to the herd of 120 Jersey cows that are responsible for the 1%, 2%, whole and chocolate milks that are processed in the building next to the milking barn. “And it’s also a chance for us to thank the Creemore community for the amazing support we’ve received over the past year.”

It has been quite a year for the fledgling company. When the ribbon was cut on the processing facility, Miller’s Dairy milk was available in five stores, including the Creemore Foodland and the Creemore 100 Mile Store. A year later, the milk is sold in 40 establishments stretching from Thornbury to Orangeville and from Bradford to Orillia. Included in the list is eight Foodland franchises and seven Sobey’s stores. And if current discussions come to fruition, the Millers should soon sign a deal that will put the milk into 25 more Sobey’s outlets across the Greater Toronto Area.

With those stores signed up, the Millers will be using the milk from all 120 cows for their dairy operation (currently, a little more than half of the milk produced on the farm goes into bottles and the rest is sold in bulk form to Dairy Farmers of Ontario, which markets milk to the major milk producers).

One of “the girls” at Miller’s Dairy.

Utilizing all of the farm’s milk was the original goal for Miller’s Dairy, but no one expected it to happen so soon. The next decision, said Miller, is whether to keep growing – a move that would require bringing Jersey milk in from other farms, as Miller’s quota is capped at 120 cows.

“We’re not sure if we want to do that,” said Miller, “but time will tell.”

In the meantime, the Dairy Day event on July 13 will feature refreshments (including milkshakes, of course) and tours of the facility. The Millers are hoping for a large crowd, and especially hope to see lots of local folks there.

“The Creemore Foodland is still our number one outlet,” said Miller. “We’re so thankful to have such a supportive community, and we’re very proud to call Creemore home.”

Miller’s Dairy Day will take place on Saturday, July 13 from 11 am to 4 pm. The Miller’s farm is located at 7280 County Road 9, between Creemore and Cashtown Corners.

THE WAY WE WERE

This fantastic old postcard of the Collingwood Street Bridge was brought in this week by Maria Simpson. While undated, a close look at the original shows three girls standing on the bridge wearing dresses typical of the World War I era. With celebrations of the bridge's 100th birthday taking place last weekend, that would make this picture a very early document of the iron truss bridge.

LETTER

Let's talk bankruptcy on a planetary scale

Dear Editor:

Now that the hill people appear to be winning their battle against wind turbines and their property values are safe for the foreseeable future, why can't Mr. Wiggins and his ilk just let it go and spend their time tending to their gardens accessed by their metres upon metres of crushed aggregates, bordered by tons of quarried limestone rock to enhance their already inflated property values?

Perhaps they could fire up the John Deere and help push the carbon content of the atmosphere up over the new record just established by our consumer-driven economy and push some gravel around.

Mr. Wiggins' favourite punching bag is Ontario Hydro and green energy policy. He loves to talk about Hydro and green energy "bankrupting our province." Well, Mr. Wiggins, we are already bankrupt. In fact the whole planet is bankrupt. What about the debt we have left our children and their children's children?

I can tell Mr. Wiggins from firsthand experience that the world's coral reefs are dead or dying. The world's lungs and carbon depositories (our tropical forests) are being destroyed faster than you can say "teak furniture." Most species of fish worth catching for market are so depleted that we now eat farmed fish or fish we threw back a decade ago.

Having lived and worked throughout the Caribbean for the last two years, I have experienced the three-degree rise in temperature at or near the equator.

BP and Mobil Oil have spent millions on drilling rights in the high Arctic. There will be spills, but not in our backyards.

Our culture is one of entitlement, not corruption as in many other countries, but we do not have an inalienable right to scream about property values when our planet's ability to sustain our species may hinge on our ability to soften and someday reverse the effects of our stewardship of this planet.

If we are concerned about the cost of green energy

"bankrupting our province," then we had better spend trillions, not millions, figuring out how to get our grandchildren's children off this "rock" and onto another one.

Creemore Big Heart Seniors

There were 48 out for cards today. This makes 12 full tables, so no one had to sit out, which makes for a nicer day for all.

Seniors have, for some years, donated money to help the Legion with the cost of the Dominion (Canada) Day fireworks. This has been in the amount of $250, which we acquired from our Rama bus trips. Since Rama has quit subsidizing our bus trip to the Casino, we find we are going to have to cut back on (probably) all our future donations – starting with the one for the fireworks. So, this year we could only afford to donate $200. We hope to be able to follow through with our other donation obligations in the same manner. The above donation was voted on and passed by a show of hands.

The 50/50 draws went to Marg Falls, Alinda Bishop, Effie Taylor, Wilma Zeggil, Tom Sharpe, Evelyn Warden (2), and Oh! Me! Barb Cudmore.

Moon shots were played by Warren Gale (2), Ruth Loughheed, Alma Seifert, Jim Rigney, Isabelle Gubbels, Phyllis Seed, Marj Thomson, Pat Winger and Art Bishop. Art won the travelling prize; Warren won the Sidewinders money and the Jim Rigney side bet.

High scorers were Mercedes Veinot 284, Alma Seifert 266, Pat Winger 265 and Wilma Zeggil 260. Low was Kevin Keogh 62.

Our thanks to Alma Seifert for donating candies to the Club's "stash." They are all appreciated. Also my thanks to Dave Smith for keeping an eye out for the coins I need to finish out sets for grandkids, etc. Also a big thanks to Marcia Cameron for sending her delicious muffins home with us; they were enjoyed – totally! And finally, thanks to Maurice Weatherall for the delightful strawberries. We are never going to get caught up with what we owe that man for being a great neighbour!

This past Sunday saw Bill and Nancy Rowell's son, Elliot, christened at Waterloo. Bill Rowell is the son of Heather and Dave Rowell, and Heather Rowell is the daughter of Maurice Weatherall. So congratulations to you all!

Ducks Aplenty

About 500 ducks made the trip down the Mad River last Monday morning, raising money for the Creemore Legion's Canada Day festivities and programming at Ray's Place Youth Resource Centre.

The winning duck was bought by Ella Vermeir of Halifax, Nova Scotia. In second place and third place were Val Nordstrom and Jacque Paterson, both of Creemore.

A CENTURY OF CROSSINGS Nearly 200 people came out for last Saturday's celebration of the 100th anniversary of the Collingwood Street Bridge. In addition to a piped procession over the bridge led by Tim Armour (above), festivities included the casting of a commemorative 100-year plaque using cast-iron letter stamps owned by Chris Vanderkruys, a descendent of J.J. Dumond, who built the bridge in 1913. Various dignitaries helped out with the stamping, including Clearview Township deputy mayor Alicia Savage (above left). At left are Barry Burton, chair of the committee that's trying to save the bridge, Simcoe-Grey MP Kellie Leitch, Savage, committee member John Hillier, Clearview Ward 4 Councillor Thom Paterson, Vanderkruys and committee member John Boote.

Mulmur deputy mayor files second lawsuit using Township property, services and funds, caused a private investigation to be conducted into Campbell Moon's personal and public affairs. As a result of the investigation, the lawsuit claims, the defendants procured private and confidential information about the Deputy Mayor.

Campbell Moon's position is that the alleged investigation violated the Township of Mulmur Code of Conduct for Members of Council, the Municipal Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act and the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms. As a result, she is seeking $100,000 in damages for the tort of intrusion upon seclusion or invasion of privacy and $25,000 in punitive damages.

This is the second lawsuit filed on behalf of Campbell Moon against Mills, Hawkins, Hayes and the Township of Mulmur. In July 2011 she sued them for slander and libel, after comments were made during a May Council meeting and a subsequent news release was issued. During the meeting, she was removed from all boards and committees and Council also declared that Campbell Moon would no longer represent the Township at community events. That lawsuit asked for an apology and a retraction of the news release, neither of which have been forthcoming.

During the public question period portion of this week's Mulmur Council meeting, Conserving Our Rural Environment (CORE) representative Cheryl Russel asked about the status of the first lawsuit, the specifics of the second and the estimated cost for the Township to defend itself against both.

The first lawsuit, said Mayor Paul Mills, is still in the hands of the Township's lawyer. Neither Mills or Campbell Moon would speak to the specifics of the second lawsuit. As for cost, Mills said the Township would have to pay a $5,000 deductible to its insurance company for each defence.

Mulmur, County at odds on waste

Mulmur Council's resolution of June 5, requesting that the municipality be removed from Dufferin County's waste disposal program, was not tabled at last month's County Council meeting. Instead, Mayor Mills told Council on Wednesday that he had been informed of the process that must be followed in such situations – both Mulmur Township and Dufferin County need to pass bylaws in order for Mulmur to be let out of the program.

Despite Mills expressing his opinion that Dufferin County would never pass such a bylaw, Mulmur Council reached a consensus Wednesday to pursue the situation. Staff will now consult the Township lawyer to determine what should be drafted in a Mulmur bylaw. "I want out at damn near any cost, and I want that put on record," said Councillor Earl Hawkins during the debate.

Wind Power for Tomorrow

“ I believe the Dufferin Wind Power project will have a long term impact on the greater community. We can expect more tax money for infrastructure and other government initiatives that will undoubtedly provide services that will benefit the entire community. Plus there will be job creation, directly and indirectly which means more disposable income or new money that will stimulate our local economy. We hope people will consider the many positive aspects of the Dufferin Wind Farm. ”
