CHANGES AT THE TOP IN CLEARVIEW

Sage named new CAO, Ferguson announces he won't run for third term as Mayor; Savage to run for top spot

by Brad Holden

The Clearview Township Administration Centre was a newsy location Friday morning, with Mayor Ken Ferguson announcing that Steve Sage, the municipality's current General Manager of Recreation and Transportation, had topped a list of more than 50 applicants to be chosen as Clearview's new Chief Administrative Officer.

STRUTTING HIS STUFF My Friend's House executive director Alison FitzGerald was in town this week fitting the Creemore Echo's Fred Mills with a pair of bright red heels for this year's "Walk A Mile in Her Shoes" event. This is the second time Mills has participated in the fundraiser for the Collingwood women's shelter; in 2012 he raised over $1,600. This year's event takes place Saturday, October 4 in Collingwood – to make a pledge for Fred, drop a cheque off at the Echo or visit www.inherheels.ca and search for his name.

COPPER KETTLE FUN Collingwood resident Heather Garner and her daughter Lauren were among the thousands who enjoyed last Saturday's Creemore Springs Copper Kettle Festival. The classic cars were out in full force, the chefs were cooking up a storm and the weather co-operated, ensuring all in attendance had a great time at the village's biggest party of the year. For many more pictures of the day, see pages 6 and 7 and visit www.thecreemoreecho.com.

Efforts underway to rejuvenate Creemore cenotaph

by David Bruce Johnson

In August 1914, the British Empire, which included Canada, issued a call to arms to combat Germany's invasion of Austria. Expecting a short and glorious war, enthusiasm was high. But then reality set in. The First World War lasted four years. For a nation of only eight million people, Canada's war effort was remarkable. 620,000 men and women served; 66,655 gave their lives and another 172,950 were wounded. It was this immense sacrifice that led to Canada's separate signature on the Treaty of Versailles. Our returning troops were greeted enthusiastically and welcomed back into the community. Memorials and Cenotaphs were established in numerous places across the country.

Throughout the British Commonwealth, "Remembrance Day" commemorates the armistice agreement that ended the First World War on Monday, November 11, 1918, at 11 am on the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month. Remembrance Day (originally called "Armistice Day") was first observed in 1919. From 1921 to 1930, Armistice Day was held on the Monday of the week in which November 11 fell. In 1931, Alan Neill, Member of Parliament for Comox-Alberni, introduced a bill to observe Armistice Day only on November 11. Passed by the House of Commons, the bill also changed the name to "Remembrance Day." The first Remembrance Day was observed on November 11, 1931.

Every year on November 11, Canadians pause in a moment of silence to honour and remember the men and women who have served, and continue to serve Canada during times of war, conflict and peace. We remember the more than 1.5 million Canadians who have served throughout our nation's history and the more than 118,000 who made the ultimate sacrifice. Unfortunately, for the rest of the year, it is all too easy to forget about the contribution Canadians, including people from our community, made during the First World War and several other conflicts since then. Here in Creemore our Cenotaph has changed: additions have been made due to more wars, and it has been moved at least four times. Nonetheless, our Cenotaph sits barely noticed for almost all the year.

Last year, a community-based

project approved by the Legion Board was initiated to rehabilitate the Creemore Cenotaph site. The first step was taken to unmask the monument by removing the overgrown plant life. As a result, the monument has begun to resume its rightful position as the focal point of the Cenotaph site.

This year, the project's goal is to further enhance the entire site with a long-term, low- to no-maintenance solution. A plan has been prepared to "hardscape" the area surrounding the cenotaph. The mound will be reduced and levelled, a retaining wall will be constructed, and interlocking stone will be installed. Ultimately, to facilitate mowing by the municipality, the surrounding lawn will be reestablished up to the base of the wall.

What does our Cenotaph mean to you? Is it simply a granite column inscribed with a bunch of forgotten people's names? Is it a meaningful way to acknowledge the ultimate sacrifice made by volunteers from our community? Or is it merely an eyesore?

One might consider this article a "Centennial Call to Arms." Our community needs you. If you would like to participate in this community effort to help finish restoring our Cenotaph, either physically or financially, please contact either David Bruce Johnson (705-466-6317) or Norm Nordstrom (705-466-6748). All support will be most welcome.

EDITORIAL The Election Shuffle

With just two weeks to go before the September 12 deadline to file for the 2014 municipal election, don't be surprised if you start to find the political junkies in your life obsessively hitting "refresh" on the Clearview Township registered candidates web page (www.clearview.ca/home/election/registered-candidates).

One could be excused for feeling a bit of confusion looking at the current state of that page. As of this week's press time, Chris Vanderkruys and Alicia Savage are listed as mayoral candidates. The column for deputy mayor is empty (Savage withdrew her nomination to vie for the mayor's seat after Ken Ferguson announced his intention to retire). In Ward 1, incumbent Doug Measures has no challengers. Ward 2 is the sole purview of new candidate Donna Baylis. In Ward 3, John Broderick is taking on the sitting Robert Walker (Broderick entered this race after initially signalling his intention to run in Ward 6). Ward 4 has no nominees yet, though it's the natural place for the veteran Shawn Davidson to run. In Ward 5 Thom Paterson is still unchallenged. Ward 6 sees newcomer Connie Leishmann with no contenders, though at various times earlier this year she faced John Broderick (who moved to Ward 6), Bill Keith (who withdrew his nomination) and Allan Howlett, who revised his nomination to run in Ward 7, against the incumbent Deb Bronée.

Whether all of the shuffling around has been due to confusion over the new ward system or something more strategic remains to be seen. And the now-gaping hole in the deputy mayor column likely means more shuffling to come.

About all we know for sure is that the week ahead will be an interesting one!

LETTER

Arbour Farms 20-day comment period not enough

Dear Editor,

As you know, Arbour Farms has proposed a gravel/sand pit on Airport Road just south of the Honeywood Road (County Road 21). I sent my objection letter 18 months ago and recently received a response. Arbour Farms and the Provincial Standards under the Aggregate Resources Act give me 20 days to respond with recommendations that may resolve my objections (yes, I have to fix my own problems with their proposal).

Do you think that they expect a well-thought-out answer in 20 days at the height of summer vacation? Or are they just expecting me to go away? If eliminating objectors was the strategy then it worked, since I missed the deadline. So please pass on my warning that Arbour Farms does not seem to appreciate community input – an inauspicious start for any prospective local business.

Gratitude for an important story

Letter to the Editor:

Re: A Place of Honour at WWI Centenary, August 15, 2014

I would sincerely like to thank the Creemore Echo and Brad Holden for the article as it appeared in last week's edition. I was initially reluctant to agree to an interview, as I was afraid I would be unable to convey the emotional and historical importance of the event at St. Paul's and the story of the tapestry's creation.

I needn't have worried. Brad treated to story with the respect it deserved by thoroughly researching and patiently interviewing. Again, my gratitude to you.

Anna Muth, Terra Nova

Changes noticed at grocery store

Letter to the Editor:

I just wanted to write in and say "hip, hip, hooray" for the improvements at our local Foodland!

Beautiful produce, a fine selection of cheeses, friendly staff (as always), not to mention brand new shopping carts. I am not going to miss the bum cart that I always seemed to get – you know, the one with one wheel that would only drag, not rotate in a forward motion as it should have.

I say to Troy, Murray and all the gang... Well done and thank you!

Cat Flack,
Creemore

Quite some years ago a lovely little lady and future member of our club was born and raised in the Lavender hills. She married the boy next door and she and Harvey lived in a large home on a 100-acre farm. Those days were lean and so this lady placed an ad in the Toronto papers to take in children for a holiday or interim housing, which would fill the many rooms of the large old house and provide some much-needed revenue. About two weeks ago this lady received a phone call stating that a man in a truck was on his way to her house in Creemore. Her son had taken her to Owen Sound to see about her eyes and she had just arrived home. She went to the front veranda to await her mystery visitor. She spotted a man in a truck pull in next door, then back out and park in front of her house. He asked if she knew May Johnston and she told him she did, then all of a sudden the gentleman realized that she in fact was the May Johnston he was looking for. This gentleman was Larry Patton, who had spent some five years at the Johnston farm, and now being 78 years of age, May had not seen him in approximately 60 years. What a great chat they had, and Larry spoke with May's son on the phone as they had been like brothers when Larry was at their farm from the age of 11 to 16. Larry had sent a Christmas card every year for a long period of time, although he failed to provide a return address. He now lives in Woodville. Of all the children who lived with the Johnstons and were treated the same as their own children, May has not heard from any of them, but her son searched for and found another gentleman working in the Home Hardware in Lindsay. May is a kind, gentle lady with a great sense of humour.

Remember: never laugh at your wife's choices, you are one of them.

Multiple streams scatter the property, as well as extensive manicured hiking, hunting, hacking, and snowmobile trails. The Bruce Trail is also located nearby. The estate is situated on a quiet road, on 100 organic acres with stunning 3 mile vistas over the rolling hills of Creemore. The property is accessed by a picturesque, mature tree-lined interlock drive, welcoming guests to this gorgeous estate.

Attention to detail and craftsmanship is evident throughout the home's 5000 sq. ft. main & second floors (7000 total finished sq. ft.). Two large reclaimed brick Rumford fireplaces are serviced by a hidden wood elevator. Spectacular trim and wide plank flooring runs throughout. The private master wing has a cathedral ceiling, his/hers bathrooms and walk in closets. Full nanny/granny/guest apartment in the lower level. The home also boasts a sun-filled fitness room and music/library with coffered ceilings.

Two adjoining 40x60 foot bank barns with horse stalls and tack room are an equestrian lover's paradise, approx. 5000 main and second floors. The Creemore Equestrian Centre is also nearby.

Creemore has been described by many as one of the prettiest towns in Ontario, and has recently been recognized in both Toronto Life and EnRoute magazine as an extraordinary place to live, to dine, and to play.

This spectacular property is situated on top of the picturesque Niagara Escarpment, only 60 minutes north of Toronto Airport. Multiple routes from the city allow for a quick and easy drive, with little to no traffic. Only a 5 minute drive to the village of Creemore, this is truly one of the area's most desirable estates. An additional 100 adjacent acres with 2 building lots are also available for a family compound. This property is listed at $2.997M with

A gymnastics club reborn in Utopia

by Michelle Pothier

Simcoe County's newest sports facility officially opened this past Saturday and that had many youngsters jumping for joy. Infinity Gymnastics Centre is the new name, Utopia is the new location, but the faces, coaches, athletes and volunteers might seem very familiar – all were part of the Borden Gymnastics team that was shut down and abruptly forced out of its military facility at the end of May, a hefty and emotional blow to a group who had practiced there for almost 20 years. To avoid losing the end of the training season and possibly losing athletes and highly skilled coaches, the group rose to the challenge and vaulted into a new venture.

The non-profit Infinity Gymnastics Centre operates with all the same dedicated employees, attention to detail and commitment to families and the community that was forged during the time on base. According to Anne Marie Stevenson, the club's new president, "We now know it just has nothing to do with location or even equipment, and everything to do with the quality of your programming, the strength of your coaches and everything else in between." True enough, over 45 competitive athletes moved to the new facility and many new faces have joined the seven different teams the club currently offers. It may be no wonder, as the women's competitive team had recently accepted Gymnastics Ontario 1st place Club Championship award for 2013-2014 season.

The athletes have been working in their new digs since June 15, leaving only two weeks from the eviction to start up, which meant many long days for parents and kids alike. But the cleaning, painting, flooring, change-room construction and equipment assembly all were finished in time. Now, the hard work of promoting the new club and fundraising to cover the costs of purchasing all new equipment begins.

"It was a hard transition from a gym full of equipment completely fundraised by parents to staring at an empty building, wondering how everything would come together," said longtime head coach Michelle Pothier. It did, and continues to evolve. Through many equipment loans and donations from the gymnastics community and financial contributions from parents and small businesses, the club has an impressive layout that uses every square inch of the 5,000-square-foot building. The new club offers the same breadth of recreational and competitive programming with upcoming fall classes running 6 days per week.

This past Saturday was the facility's grand opening. Essa Township Mayor Terry Dowdall and members of his Council were on hand to welcome the new business and help cut the ribbon to officially open the centre. The well-attended event, named "Gymfest," offered many other activities including demonstrations by competitive athletes, gym tours by Infinity coaches, and a visit from author and Olympian Jessica Tudos to promote her new book Kika the Upside Down Girl.

Registration for the club's fall session is ongoing and more information can be found at infinitygymnastics.ca.

After 31 years of service, Susan Prosser has made the decision to retire from TD Bank. Her last day will be August 29th.

Susan has a heart of gold and will be deeply missed by staff and customers.

Please join us on August 29th from 10-1 to wish Susan well on the next chapter of her life.

September Resolutions

by Wendy Moore

The coming of September is a little like celebrating the New Year. September is about celebrating a new year at school or in our work. September means new beginnings, new experiences, new friendships, new hopes and dreams. Often, along with the beginning of September comes our new resolutions for the way in which we plan to approach the days ahead and interact with others.

No matter how old we are, there seems to be something quite exciting and a sense of anticipation around what will come of this new “school” year and of our participation in it.

There is a section of a letter written almost 2,000 years ago that, when put into today’s terms, provides a phenomenal foundation for new beginnings, fresh starts and September resolutions.

First it may be helpful to know a little bit about the word love. In the Greek language of 2,000 years ago, there were three different words for love. The word for love used in this letter is “agape” which means to want the best for another person – to encourage, equip and enable others. It is all about sincere friendship.

Here is a summary of the section of the letter, adapted from Eugene Peterson’s The Message:

- Love. Genuinely love other people. Be a good, caring friend, always respecting the rights and dignity of the other person. Welcome the stranger – that is, someone like the person who is sitting alone on the margins in the lunchroom.

- Be humble. The world, your teachers, friends, fellow workers and family too, will find you ever so much more enjoyable to be with, when you are approachable, caring and when you put others before yourself.

- Be energized. Keep yourself cheerfully expectant and seek the good, positive moments and opportunities. Never give up. Press on toward what is good and right.

- Be compassionate. Share feelings and experiences with others. If they are sad, be sad with them and for them, if they are happy, be happy with them and for them.

- Be positive towards everyone. Look for the good in everyone. The good is always there, it’s just that sometimes we have to look a little deeper, or maybe it is our own blindness that won’t let us see the beautiful person they are or want to become.

- If you see someone in need, even if you don’t think you like them, help them. Give them food if they are hungry, water if they are thirsty, a jacket if they are cold, friendship if they are alone or afraid. Your kind, generous helping hand will go a lot further than you can imagine, maybe for years and years to come.
- Smile.

Rev. Wendy Moore heads the congregation at St. Luke’s Anglican Church in Creemore.

Ferguson out

Then, almost offhandedly, he made another announcement that came as a surprise to some: he will not be running for a third term as Mayor.

“It was the hardest decision I’ve made in my life,” said Ferguson, who has served on Clearview Council for 20 years – as a Councillor from 1994 to 2003, as Deputy Mayor from 2003 to 2006, and as Mayor from 2006 to the present. “On Friday morning, it was like a 30-watt lightbulb went off. We’re in a good place right now – I heard that over and over again from the people who were interviewing for the CAO position – and it suddenly made sense to me, that maybe I could go out on top.”

While the news came as a surprise to Deputy Mayor Alicia Savage – Ferguson said even his wife didn’t know of his decision until he made his announcement – by Monday morning she had done what she has been promising to do all year if Ferguson decided not to run.

“I know he’s been struggling with the decision all year,” said Savage, who has now withdrawn her bid for re-election as Deputy Mayor and instead registered to run for Mayor against Brentwood resident Chris Vanderkruys. “So I have been prepared for this. There is such a learning curve, especially at County Council (where the Mayor and Deputy Mayor have seats), I just think that with all the irons we have in the fire right now, stability is what we need.”

Steve Sage inherits the CAO position from now retired Sue McKenzie, after a 24-year career with Sunnidale and Clearview Townships as Roads Superintendent, Deputy Director of Public Works and General Manager of Recreation and Transportation.
